TOP — These fine new metal stock-pens behind the stage at the Coliseum were photographed by The Star Friday from the top row of bleachers.

LEFT — When the crowd arrives for the opening performance of the 1957 Show, Monday night, September 23, it is going to find the best arrangement of rest-rooms of any show place in Arkansas. This year the Stock Show management built four of them. One in the picture is for white women.

Will Oppose Appointment of McKinney

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today he "certainly will oppose Senate confirmation" for Democrat Robert M. McKinney to a key atomic energy post.

"This continual circumvention of the Republican National Committee is contributing more to disappointment in the ranks of Republican workers than any other factor," Goldwater said in a telephone interview from Arizona.

But the New Mexico publisher was expected to win support from Senate Democrats as well as many Republicans, and his approval appeared likely.

Appointment of McKinney as U.S. representative on the Board of Governors of the new International Atomic Energy Agency was announced yesterday at President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at Newport, R. I.

McKinney, 47, is a publisher of the Santa Fe New Mexican and the El Nuevo Mexicano at Santa Fe, N. M.

The post is subject to Senate confirmation, but McKinney was given a recess appointment under which he will attend the first meeting of the IAEA opening Oct. 1 in Vienna. His name is expected to be sent to the Senate in January.

The agency was set up by treaty to promote peaceful uses of atomic energy throughout the world.

Goldwater complained that the White House did not clear the nomination with the Republican National Committee and GOP committee members from McKinney's area.

Dept. Store Sales Follow Mixed Pattern

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Department store sales last week followed a mixed pattern in the Eighth Federal Reserve District but averaged four per cent higher than a year ago for the district as a whole.

The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reported sales were up nine per cent in the St. Louis area, four per cent at Little Rock, Ark., were unchanged at Louisville, Ky., and seven smaller district cities and were down four per cent at Memphis, Tenn.

For the four weeks that ended Saturday, district sales averaged the same as for the comparable period of 1956. St. Louis area sales were larger, but elsewhere in the district sales were below last year's.

District sales for the year to date have averaged the same as for the similar period last year.

Air Force Has Long Range Radar System

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Air Force reported today that the U.S. has developed radar which will detect an intercontinental ballistic missile up to 2,000 miles away.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said the advanced type of radar will be put into use "in the near future" to give U.S. population and military centers "instantaneous warning" of a missile attack.

White's disclosure came on the heels of Defense Department confirmation Thursday night that this country has flown a test ballistic missile for "thousands of miles."

White told the Defense Orientation Association meeting at the Pentagon that the Air Force has made "recent break-throughs in the computer, communications, radar and missile fields."

"Work is now being actively pursued in two phases of the total system of air defense," he said.

"Radar has now been developed which have detection ranges on an intercontinental ballistic missile out to 2,000 miles," White said.

Parents seldom kiss their children good night any more—the kids get home too late.

Friends Must Share Alike

DALLAS (AP) — Rip Van Winkle, a drive-in grocery clerk, got a hurry-up call from his wife that the clerk was hovering near.

He hurried to the hospital with her, leaving Bob Stonto to tend the store.

Five minutes later Stonto got a similar call from his wife. He called in a relief man.

Mrs. Van Winkle and her now son shared a hospital room today with Mrs. Stonto and her new daughter.

Disappointed, Says Ike of L.R. Situation

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — President Eisenhower, "deeply disappointed" over continued blocking of Little Rock school integration, is keeping tabs on the showdown round in Arkansas today.

The vacationing President expects to get Justice Department reports through the day. On the federal court hearing scheduled in Little Rock on Gov. Orval Faubus use of National Guardsmen to bar Negroes from Central High School there.

Late yesterday the Newport White House made it plain the President had hoped—and perhaps expected—that Faubus would have cleared the way for integration in advance of today's hearing.

That became clear when Wayne Hawks, acting press secretary, was asked at a news conference whether the President was pleased with developments in Little Rock.

"No," Hawks replied. "He is deeply disappointed that voluntary means have not been found to comply with the court's order."

Faubus conferred with Eisenhower here last Saturday.

Hawks declined comment when asked whether the President's view was that Faubus had "regretted" any promises he may have made at their Newport conference.

Hawks, White House chief of records, took over the spokesman's post during the temporary illness of White House press secretary James C. Hagerly, which was announced yesterday.

At that time neither the President nor Faubus said anything specifically about whether the governor would order the National Guardsmen away from the high school.

But Faubus did say the U.S. Supreme Court integration decision "is the law of the land and must be obeyed."

Mrs. Eisenhower joined the President yesterday afternoon on a 14-hour cruise on Narragansett Bay aboard the Barbara Anne, 92-foot boat named for one of their granddaughters. They were accompanied by a group of friends from the U.S. naval base, site of the vacation White House.

Jean Sibelius Dies at 91; Was Composer

HELSINKI (AP) — Jean Sibelius, a brooding, mystical giant among the world's composers, died last night at the age of 91.

He had been in good health until stricken with a brain hemorrhage at the villa which he built near Helsinki 53 years ago.

Sibelius left his imprint on the world of music with 13 symphonies, seven symphonies and several works for piano and strings.

He also left a mystery. Although his last published music appeared in the late 1920s, he was believed to have worked on an eighth symphony in more recent years. His death may yield the answer.

The grand sweep of his "Toto" poem "Finlandia" has intrigued and mystified audiences since it was first performed in 1892. The Finns, who then ruled the land of the Finns, feared that its grandeur might incite freedom rights, banned it for a while.

The "Swan of Tuusula," with a dark philosophy of death and damnation, was second to "Finlandia" in the favor of western audiences. Sibelius' symphonies, especially those in E and in D, also were widely played.

Sibelius' 1954 published major work was "Tapiola," which appeared in 1926 and a collection of minor works called "Opus 116" was published in 1929.

One critic said the craggy-faced composer identified himself with the wildest, the most vivid and the most somber manifestations of the field, woods, sea and sky.

He spent many hours tramping through woods and watching the sky and clouds from his windows.

Sibelius was born on Dec. 8, 1865, at Hamelina in central Finland. He began composing at the age of 10. After a fling at legal studies, he dedicated his life to music.

Rotary Hears Head of State Chamber

George Peck, member of the Board of Directors of the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce, presented Ewing Pyatt of Searcy, Arkansas, President of the State Chamber of Commerce, at the Hope Rotary Club luncheon at Hotel Barlow Friday noon.

Mr. Pyatt noted the outstanding role the Chamber of Commerce has played in the achievement of progress as a whole throughout the state of Arkansas. In this connection, he pointed out the advancement made by the town of Searcy, Arkansas, since 1940 and urged leaders of other communities to take every step possible toward gaining new business and industry.

Mr. Pyatt, one of Arkansas' most outstanding business men, is president of the Searcy Bank, past president of the Searcy Chamber of Commerce, Searcy Kiwanis Club, the Arkansas Bankers Association and the Fayetteville Lions Club while a resident of that city.

He has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Arkansas Economic Council-State Chamber of Commerce and the Public Expenditure Council since the organization of these groups. Mr. Pyatt has been associated with many other public service groups in the State of Arkansas, and it was a privilege for the Hope Rotary Club to have him as a speaker.

Prior to the club program, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce staged a mock "raid" themselves attired in Western and Rotarians unable to prove rogues were charged accordingly and "fined 25 cents," all for publicity of the Third District Live-Stock Show opening in Hope September 23rd.

In addition to Mr. Pyatt, guests of the club were George Frazier, Frank Cantrell and Bob Comer. Forty-one club members were present.

Legionnaires in Pilgrimage to Europe

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A thousand or more American Legionnaires headed for Europe today on a pilgrimage for peace on winding up their 50th annual convention.

The exodus began after the veterans elected John S. Gleason Jr., 42, Chicago banker, World War II veteran and father of six boys, as their new national commander.

While most of the conventioners set out for home, others took off on visits to old battlefields on a good will mission.

They did not travel as a unit, but in various groups. All will get together for a reception to be given by the French government later in the month in Paris, birthplace of the 2,800,000 member Legion.

This is the fourth such trip at 10-year intervals.

Chief item of interest among the delegates was adoption of a resolution calling upon Congress to approve a limited pension plan to aid veterans in the 65-year age bracket who have small incomes.

The Legion estimates that more than a million World War I veterans will be 65 or older by next June 30. So will 22,000 World War II veterans.

After Gleason was elected national commander for a one-year term as successor to W. C. (Dan) Daniel of Danville, Va., he promised the delegates he would serve the Legion's objectives "faithfully and to the fullest extent of my abilities."

"One of the great tasks facing the Legion," he said, "to keep alive with all patriotic Americans the values and traditions that make up the root stock of our free Republic."

He continued: "Today, we stand on the threshold of scientific breakthroughs into the innermost secrets of the universe. In the hands of the godless and the treacherous, each new discovery can become a force capable of destroying civilization itself."

In the hands of a generation schooled in the moral and spiritual precepts of a free society, mankind can prosper and live in peace and freedom. I believe it is up to us to meet the challenge of an uncertain tomorrow."

Gleason showed he is not a "peace-at-any-price advocate."

He said after his election: "Freedom is the privilege of those who are prepared to guard it— to defend it—and accept any sacrifice that is required to preserve it."

Gleason's main interest as a Legionnaire is the care and rehabilitation of the wounded and disabled and care of their dependents. This, he says, is the cardinal purpose of the Legion.

Gleason, a model train hobbyist, says, "It's a hobby the boys and I can share together."

There are no daughters in the Gleason household in Winnetka, Ill.

The head of the house — tall, erect, with prematurely silver hair — has a soldierly appearance in his blue legion uniform and red overseas cap. He dresses like a typically conservative banker in his business life. His manner is pleasant and his smile is ready.

He is vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago.

He interrupted his service with the bank to enlist as a private in 1911. He served in the Pacific campaign and rose to lieutenant colonel. He won the Silver Star, Soldier's Medal, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters and the Philippine Presidential Citation. Now he is a brigadier general in the National Guard.

King Haakon Dies at 95; Olav V Rules

OSLO, Norway (AP) — King Haakon VII of Norway, an old sailor who rode out the storms of invasion to reign for more than half a century, died early today in the royal palace. He was 95 and the world's oldest reigning monarch.

The king had been growing weaker in the light of a coronary ailment. Death came suddenly after heart trouble developed at 4:30 a.m. (10:30 p.m. EST Friday).

Crown Prince Olav, regent of the realm since his father broke a thigh bone in a fall in 1955, immediately became the new king.

There will be no coronation. Norway's constitution provided that Haakon was to be the last king formally crowned in coronation ceremonies in Norway.

Olav submitted a written statement to a special cabinet meeting saying he had succeeded his father.

"I promise and swear I will rule the monarchy of Norway in agreement with its constitution," the statement said.

The 54-year-old Olav must repeat the oath orally after a new Parliament is convened in January.

Olav's son, Prince Harald, received the title of crown prince upon his father's automatic ascension to the throne.

King Haakon, a stately 6-foot 3-inch former Danish prince, had been in frail health for some time. Early this week his doctors announced he was suffering from the circulatory ailment and expressed fears for his life.

A medical bulletin said the king, who had been receiving intravenous feeding because of a throat (catarrh) condition, slept soundly until a few minutes before his death.

A palace announcement said funeral services will be held Tuesday, Oct. 1. No other details concerning the funeral were announced.

Haakon, born near Copenhagen Aug. 3, 1872, was the son of King Frederick VIII and Queen Louise of Denmark. As Prince Carl, he was a 24-year-old Danish naval officer when Norway invited him to become its first modern monarch.

Although he had never aspired to be a king, he agreed to accept it. The Norwegians voted for a monarchy. In the referendum in 1906, 259,562 voters favored a monarchy and 69,284 opposed it.

The new king adopted an ancient Norwegian name, designating himself Haakon VII. His infant son, then Prince Alexander, was renamed Olav.

Cyanide Is Removed From Canada Town

THAMESVILLE, Ont. (AP) — The 1,100 residents of this southern Ontario town heaved a collective sigh of relief today. Workers had removed 25,000 pounds of deadly cyanide dumped in the streets by a truck-train collision.

Chemical experts said all danger from the poisonous dust and pellets was past.

Workers using bulldozers and trucks scraped up the spilled cyanide yesterday and hauled it to a disposal ditch two miles from town. From there it will be transferred to a plant at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

A load of 10,000 pounds of sodium hypochloride was spread at the crash scene in the center of Thamesville to neutralize any dangerous cyanide properties remaining.

The cyanide — 55 drums of copper cyanide dust and 155 drums of sodium cyanide in egg-sized pellets — was aboard a truck that was chapped in two by a Canadian National Railways passenger train shortly before midnight Wednesday.

The dangerous cargo spewed out along more than 800 feet of road along a 10-foot-wide cyanide dust cloud two to three feet high in some spots.

A spokesman for Du Pont of Canada said there was no threat of deadly fumes. But he acknowledged the flakes could burn skin and cause death if taken internally. The wrecked truck was carrying the cyanide from the E. I. du Pont Co. in Buffalo to Detroit.

ARKANSAS — Consider a little cloudiness with widely scattered showers and a little cooler northeast portion this afternoon. Lowest tonight 55; northwest near 70 southeast; high Saturday 75-85. Local thunderstorms northwest and widely scattered thundershowers southwest Sunday.
